Trading Lots, Stocks, Options, CFD's and Spread-Betting can create very large rewards. However there is a high level of risk to your capital associated with trading and you may not get back the amount you invest. Trading of any asset class is not always appropriate for all investors. You need to be aware of the risks and be willing to accept them, before investing in this highly leveraged asset class. It is recommended that you seek the advice of a professional independent financial advisor prior to implementing any investment program or financial plan.

Objectives

This self-study course teaches the skills to trade the Foreign Exchange (Forex) market. The course assumes no prior knowledge of Forex. The delegate starts with the history of Forex and builds your knowledge of the modern Forex market. You will open a trading account as part of the course and will learn to navigate the trading platform. You will learn 3 strategies to trade the market and most importantly, you will learn how to trade with very low risk.

Time required

The course is constructed of 10 modules which are divided into individual lessons. The complete course comprises of more than 60 lessons. The format of each lesson is a high definition (1080p) video. Course notes are provided.

You will need access to the internet to view the course materials. They can be viewed and studied from any computer or laptop using a browser. You can also view the course materials using a tablet or smart phone.

To complete all of the lessons on this course requires over 14 hours of study time. You will then need to add further time to complete the quizzes and tasks set by the course. In total, we estimate some 17 to 18 hours of work is required for the course, meaning the course is the equivalent of a three-day event.

Subscriptions

The initial course subscription is for a period of 3 months. Email support is included throughout your subscription. You may view the course as many times as you wish during your subscription period. You have the option to extend the subscription for a further 3 months at the end of each subscription period.

Prices

The initial subscription is £295 for the first 3 months of access for all modules of the course. A 3 month extension/renewal is available to existing subscribers. Prices are correct at 1st July 2015.

Ordering

You may subscribe to the entire course online from the learning portal, planb.learnupon.com. You may also subscribe to individual modules - see planb.learnupon.com for module pricing. This course can also be purchased from selected independent traders.

Module 1

It's always challenging to develop any training course, particularly where the outcome is a practical result. I'm sure you'll want to get started and actually begin trading and banking some profits. But there is so much to learn first. The temptation might be to skip over some of the foundation materials to simply get started. Please don't. Following the full course and the structured learning in the course will provide you with a foundation on which you can build. It will improve your knowledge of the markets, which in turn, should translate into a greater enjoyment of trading and greater profitability. Module 1 is about providing that foundation. The complete study time for module 1 is a little over an hour and a quarter. Topics covered in module 1 are:

Module	Description	Duration
1	Getting started	0:02:31
1.1	Objectives	0:11:41

1.8	How does it work	0:13:30
1.9	Currencies to trade	0:07:51
Quiz	End of module questions

Module 2

After the foundation provided by module 1, I am turning my attention to the tools you need to trade successfully. I'll cover a whole range of topics within the lessons, including some I'm sure you won't have considered. This module teaches you how to select a broker and open a trading account. You will also learn how to install the trading software on your PC or laptop. There are some tasks for you to complete at the end of this module. Once you have done these, you will have opened a trading account. You will also have the trading software installed on your PC or laptop and you'll be ready to start trading. To complete module 2 takes around an hour and a quarter of study time. Topics covered in module 2 are:

Module 3

Now we've selected a broker to use for Forex trading, we need to get some practical experience under our belt. Module 3 is far more practical than most other modules, as it takes you through the usage of your new trading account, providing some basic navigation skills. There is just under an hour and a quarter of tutorial in this module. You will almost certainly have to add as much time again to carry out the practical assignments that accompany this module. Once you done that, you should have a good understanding of the trading platform and the navigation of the trading platform, providing a good foundation for you to start taking trades as your knowledge grows. Topics covered in module 3 are:

Module	Description	Duration

3.6	Trades	0:14:36
3.7	Manage your account	0:09:09
Quiz	End of module questions and tasks

Module 4

We're continuing the theme of building your knowledge and getting you ready to trade. From a standing start, you have come a long way already and you now have a trading account and basic navigation skills. Module 4 extends that knowledge and provides the foundation for trading. By the end of this module, you will have an understanding of fundamental and technical analysis, with a sound foundation into charting practices and techniques. You'll be in a position to open and format charts for your use as a trader Topics covered in module 4 are:

Module	Description	Duration
4	Charting	0:01:51
4.1	Fundamental analysis	0:17:04
